

CGCF City Farmer Summer Session Application

Are you interested in helping to run our volunteer-driven urban farm? Common Good City Farm is an urban farm and education center growing food with and for the community and providing educational opportunities for all people that help increase food security, improve health, and contribute to environmental sustainability. CGCF's City Farmers program is an opportunity to take your involvement with our farm to the next level. As a City Farmer, you will provide crucial help to our Farm Manager, completing essential farm tasks with increasing autonomy, and leading drop-in volunteers and volunteer groups in the work of the day.

As a City Farmer, you will get:

- Hands-on experience working on an innovative urban farm in the heart of DC
- Discounts on CGCF's 2016 workshops and produce from our farm stand (20% discount)
- The opportunity to join a community of diverse, highly motivated people who are passionate about urban agriculture

We are looking for people:

- Who can commit to one 3 hour slot each week from June 22- August 28 (the same day each week)
- Who have experience in sustainable agriculture or a willingness to learn
- Who have a friendly, outgoing demeanor
- Who have the ability to work outside in all weather and to do physical labor
